

International Conference

Building up together
the future of innovation

September 23-24-25, 2015

Océanopolis, Brest

Building together the future of innovation

Innovation is at the center of all debates, whether they are political or economic. Result of a strong bond between research and companies, it must be the support for a durable growth. But, how to meet when cultural/institutional backgrounds, languages, and priorities are not the same?

Unique event in France, CO-SCIENCES International conference, 3 days:

- To meet people coming from the research and the economic background
- To share thoughts and ideas on the interactions occurring between laboratories and companies and their outcomes.
- To build news synergies for the future.

Call for papers

You have an expertise in the field of science-business interactions? You have led a research or a program on a specific field or object, or developed an original methodology? Your opinion interests us !

You are or have been a member of a partnership/consortium gathering one or more labs and one or more companies ? Clusters, platform for economic development and innovation ? Come to share your experience !

Proposal on poster or oral communication due to May 31th, 2015

Registration & informations on <http://cosciences2015.sciencesconf.org>

#cosciences

In partnership with

Sponsored by

